New York Hears Radio Report Many British Troops Land At Basra

By EARL REEVES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, May 5.—Two stunning R. A. F. attacks on the Iraqi Moreat Raschid airdrome outside Baghdad were declared today to have put out of action 25 Iraqi warplanes—about half that country's effective military air force.

Official British announcements at Cairo said the British raids were carried out Saturday and yesterday after the seaport of Basra was occupied by British Imperial troops, who also gained control of the entire surrounding area.

At the same time the battle around Habbaniyah airdrome went into its fourth day with Iraqi artillery shelling the base but with several more siege guns silenced by British air assaults.

The London Daily Sketch reported from Baghdad that the British embassy in the Iraqi capital was isolated but that it had not yet been molested. British residents were gathered in the embassy grounds.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Ten or a dozen new extra large buses were lined up on North Jefferson street from the diamond to Grant street on Sunday afternoon, giving some people the idea that the buses for New Castle had arrived. They were part of a shipment going through the city to their destination in another city, however.

Next Sunday will be observed throughout the nation as Mother's Day.

Tent caterpillars seem to be developing more numerous this year than in previous springs. There are hundreds of these pests to be seen in trees around the country.

Slow drivers who want to ride on Sunday afternoons should seek some of the less travelled highways than the Perry highway. Pa Newc observes several slow drivers were holding up long lines of traffic on this much travelled highway on Sunday afternoon.

Work of repairing Neshannock avenue surface can't be started too soon. That street, which was entirely resurfaced last summer, is exceedingly rough. The job of resurfacing must have been very poorly done last summer.

In the back yard of the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Gardockey on West Washington street there is a mountain ash tree, with the clusters of last year's berries still hanging (Continued On Page Two)

Report Confession In New York Murder Of Heir To Wealth

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, May 5.—A thrice-convicted footpad, Morris Mardavich, 23, early today was reported by the district attorney's office to have confessed the slaying of Harry V. Maxwell, 41-year-old heir to America's greatest billboard advertising fortune, who was shot to death at 5 a. m. yesterday as he resisted a robbery attempt while sitting in a parked car on a midtown Manhattan street.

Mardavich, an unemployed plumber's helper, admitted the killing after 20 hours' grilling, Assistant District Attorney Jacob Rosenblum announced. The youth, who has been convicted twice for burglary and once for larceny, will be arraigned later today in homicide court.

Squeeze Into Coupe

Mardavich, Rosenblum said, confessed that he and a companion approached the coupe in which the wealthy advertising executive, and Janet Casser, 22-year-old model, was seated outside the girl's 81st Street home, and squeezed their way into the front seat.

Maxwell, the youth said, put up a fight, "so I let him have it." Police (Continued On Page Eight)

Extend Work At Shops Of B. & O. Railroad Here

Completely reconditioned in 30 days by the mechanics of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad shops at New Castle Junction, passenger locomotive 5241, one of the largest coal burning locomotives, has been put into the passenger service between New Castle and Chicago.

Heretofore only freight and switch engines have been reconditioned at New Castle Junction, the passenger work being done in other shops. While the reconditioning of 5241 could in no wise be termed an experiment here, it still is something new for the local shops and it is understood that in the future passenger engines will be reconditioned at the local shops.

The locomotive was put into the New Castle Junction shops about 30 days ago. Reconditioning means almost rebuilding a locomotive and (Continued On Page Two)

Coast Guards Board Vessels In New York Harbor—Silence On Seizures

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 5.—Boarding parties of armed Coast Guardsmen walked the decks of three Yugoslavian freighters in New York harbor today while Coast Guard headquarters were silent on the obvious seizure of the ships.

One vessel, the Predsednik Kopačic, had steamed down the bay when the Coast Guard apparently received word to act and in three hours she slowly steamed back up the bay and dropped anchor off Staten Island.

The Neri and the Sereca were boarded at their docks. There was no immediate indication of the type of custody under which the boats were placed or whether it was the same type established in the case of seized German, Danish and Italian ships.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Herbert Gaston today conceded that Coast Guard officers may have boarded two Yugoslav freighters in New York harbor, but he denied that this government had seized the vessels.

Attempt To End Greyhound Strike

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, May 5.—Labor department conciliators meet today with representatives of the A.F.L.'s Amalgamated Association of Street Car and Motor Coach Operators Union and officials of the Pennsylvania-Greyhound bus line in an attempt to end the strike of 1,400 employees which left approximately 20,000 passengers stranded throughout the east.

A union spokesman said that the strike, called at 5 a. m., was "100 percent effective" and would undoubtedly continue while negotiations are in progress. More than 200 drivers and mechanics joined in the walkout. Company officials admitted that bus operations had stopped.

Seventh Ward Theater Guttled By Fire Sunday

Fire, Originating From Burning Rubbish, Causes Loss Of Around $13,000

IS DISCOVERED AFTER MIDNIGHT

Firemen Prevent Blaze Spreading To Large Frame House Adjoining

Fire, which was discovered at 12:40 o'clock Sunday morning, gutted the Crescent motion picture theater at 223 North Liberty street, causing a loss of around $13,000, which is partly covered by insurance. It was a spectacular blaze which burned fiercely and attracted several thousand people to the scene. Seven fire companies responded as three alarms were sounded for the blaze.

When first discovered, the fire appeared to be largely a bonfire, in a rubbish bin alongside the building in the rear of the theater, and firemen, so informed, felt that help would not be necessary. As a result, only the seventh ward company and fire chief responded at first.

Spreads Rapidly

The blaze, however, had evidently gone up the side of the building, a one-story structure, and communicated to the roof, which was consumed. (Continued On Page Two)

Think Germans Are Seeking To Start 'Holy War'

'Holy War' In Middle East Would Aid Axis Drive On Suez Canal

By KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 5.—Diplomatic advisers received in Washington today indicated Germany is striving to incite a Moslem holy war in the middle east in order to pave the way for an axis pincer movement against the Suez canal.

German secret agents are said to be promising the Moslem leaders axis support for the establishment of an Arab national state and the wiping out of the Jewish national home in Palestine if the Arabs will rise now against the British.

Intensification of the German efforts to rouse the Arabs during the last few days, especially in Syria, has led to the belief in authoritative quarters in Washington that Germany is seeking to use the Iraq trouble as the spark to ignite a general Arab revolt throughout the middle east.

The War For Oil In The Near East

The Near East boiled over when Iraqi leaders called for Nazi military aid as their troops bombarded British air base at Habbaniyah and reported the "encirclement" of British forces landed at Basra. Dotted lines show the oil pipe lines used by Britain. The pipe line through Syria is reported to have been shut off. The rich Mosul oil fields at Kirkuk are termed the life blood of the British fleet in the Mediterranean and their loss would be a terrific blow.

Trails Of Fire And Destruction Left In Benina And Bengazi By Fliers

Italo-German Assaults At Tobruk Are Fought To Complete Standstill

By W. P. SAPHIRE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CAIRO, May 5.—Trails of fire and destruction were left today in the wake of Royal Air Force planes which rocketed over the important Axis-held north African strongholds of Benina and Bengazi while Imperial ground forces at Tobruk fought concerted Italo-German assaults to a standstill.

Gasoline tanks, munition stores and barracks buildings were battered and two huge junkers troop-transport planes were destroyed in two successive RAF raids on Benina, debarkation point for Axis troops from Europe.

An official communique, describing the raids, said military warehouses were set afire at Bengazi and that clouds of debris erupted from bombed structures at the important Axis coastal base.

Germans Parade Nazis Again Bomb Ireland

Huge Force Marches Through Greek Capital For Many Hours

By PIERRE J. HUSS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ATHENS, May 5.—Germany's blitzkrieg left this fair Hellenic capital unscathed. Not so much as a stone fell from the famed Acropolis when the heaviest German bombs blasted Piraeus, the port of Athens, a few miles away.

But Athens today has been given a full-scale view of the power that makes the Nazi war machine ride over armies, fortified lines and mountain chains.

Yesterday Luftwaffe squadrons roared over Athens and the day before a parade of German ground troops wound through Athens for hours.

Today the swastika waves lazily over the Acropolis. In Piraeus harbor the masts and smoke stacks of sunken ships are visible above the surface of the water. And an iron cordon seals Athens itself against unauthorized intruders.

Food in the Grecian capital is not plentiful, but it is sufficient. But for Athenians the most striking aspect of the German occupation was the powerful German legions that poured over the steepest mountain passes and now guard the Greek coasts.

This force contracts so widely with the skeleton British forces which previously appeared in the city that every Greek waiter, policeman and business man that I have talked to has remarked that the B. E. F. "looked like a police expedition in comparison to the German tidal wave."

Already, according to these same circles, many thousands of German officers, "tourists" and technicians have been spotted within Spain, particularly in the north, and they are described as ready to "cooperate" with the German forces in France.

LONDON, May 5.—Bomb hits were declared today to have been scored "on or very near" the 26,000-ton German battle cruisers Scharnhorst and Gneisenau during a smashing R. A. F. attack on the German naval base at Brest during the night.

British planes dropped bombs of the heaviest calibre on the Nazi-occupied French coast naval base where the two German warships have been docked since returning from a commerce raiding expedition in the Atlantic. In recent weeks the vessels have been subjected to repeated damaging attacks.

While the R. A. F. hammered Brest, Nazi raiders gave the Northern Ireland capital of Belfast a terrific pounding and also bombed Liverpool and the Merseyside region for the fourth consecutive night.

Byrd's Ship Back From Antarctic

Reaches Boston On Return Trip

Dr. Paul A. Siple, Of Erie, Was In Command At Little America Base

MEN SPENT 18
MONTHS ON TRIP

(International News Service)
BOSTON, May 5.—Ending an 18-months journey to the bottom of the world, the famed North Star, flagship of Rear Admiral Byrd's Antarctic expedition, arrived at the army base today. On hand to greet the North Star and the 35 Polar adventurers on board was Rear Admiral Byrd, who went on the expedition in 1938, but returned ahead of time several months ago to go into active service with the United States navy.

Byrd boarded the ship and was greeted by Dr. Paul A. Siple, of Erie, Pa., commander of the Little America base and leader of the Antarctic expedition after the rear admiral left.

A touch of romance was in the air for among 200 persons, mostly relatives and friends of expedition members who braved a drizzling rain to witness the docking of the North Star, was "Marge" a San Diego, Calif., girl, who plans to marry Archie C. Hill, 22, Long Beach, Calif., the cook of the expedition.

"Marge," who declined to reveal her last name, vowed she and Archie would be married as soon as the license could be obtained.

U. S. to Use Ship
As soon as the South Polar expedition equipment was unloaded from the North Star, the rugged ship will be inducted into the United States navy for Polar patrol service, probably around Greenland, the Danish possession recently declared a United States protectorate by President Roosevelt.

Dr. Siple was waiting to get his first glimpse of his daughter, Pauline Byrd Siple, born at Meadville, Pa., last June, while he was in Antarctica. Siple, a geographer and biologist, was chosen from among 60,000 Boy Scouts in the United States to go with Admiral Byrd on the first South Polar expedition in 1938.

Among the other South Polar adventurers returning on the North Star were seven local men. They were Clarence E. Steele, 30, Dalton, tank driver and mechanic; Adam Ashman, 28, Westfield, tank mechanic; Clay Bailey, 35, Belmont, chief radio operator; Harold P. Gilmore, 28, Boston, recorder; Ernest L. Lockhart, 32, Boston, physiologist; Joseph P. Healey, 22, Boston, dog driver, and John Hawthorne, 34, Middleboro, recorder.

Another of the Byrd Antarctic ships, the Bear of Oakland, is due to dock in Boston May 16.

have been beaten to a standstill according to Cairo military quarters who added, however, that there was no assurance that the assaults had been permanently stopped.

The concrete machinegun and anti-tank emplacements in Tobruk's outer perimeter of defenses withstood and threw back the last Axis assault on Saturday. British mechanized forces swept out from one flank and slammed into the Axis tanks and armored columns while stationary defense guns repelled the assault on the other flanks.

Raids At Sollum

Meanwhile, according to an official statement, Imperial forces pushed out of Sollum in a series of raids against the enemy. An undisclosed number of Axis troops were taken prisoner and heavy casualties were inflicted on Italo-German forces.

In East Africa, mopping-up operations continued. One contingent of Imperial troops advanced on Amba Alagi where scattered remnants of the Italian army are attempting to make a last stand. Already, important positions around Amba Alagi have fallen to the British.

Enemy mechanized units in Libya in the vicinity of Marawa were bombed and machine-gunned with heavy German and Italian casualties.

British planes also gave the enemy military headquarters south of Tobruk a heavy going-over, starting large fires.

Capture 3,000 Prisoners

CAIRO, May 5.—Heavy blows today were dealt the combined German-Italian drive across the western desert of Libya toward Egypt by British raids on the Axis-held bases at Benina and Bengazi and the dispersal of an Axis tank assault on Tobruk.

Covered by terrific artillery fire, British forces destroyed 11 German tanks and took 3,000 prisoners in one of the fiercest battles yet fought at Tobruk where a British garrison still holds the port.

Germans and Italians, attempting to penetrate still further inside the line of defenses around Tobruk, were instead hurled back with heavy losses.

Second and third alarms were sounded from Box 715, calling additional fire companies to the scene, and the fire was extinguished, but not before the interior had been practically burned out and the valuable projection machines rendered worthless.

Louis Perretta, the owner, stated that he had been past the building at 12:30 o'clock and saw no sign of fire at that time. Tony Piscutta, one of the discoverers of the fire, suffered a laceration of the hand when he broke a window in the front door to get into the building.

Mr. Perretta had just completed a series of remodeling operations on the building, which included installation of the latest sound equipment, a new modern front, and additional new seats. He stated that his loss was only covered to the extent of around 80 per cent by insurance.

Save Double House
Firemen battled heroically to prevent the blaze from spreading to a big double frame house at 219-221 North Liberty street, immediately south of the theater, which was enveloped by flames from the burning roof of the theater, and succeeded in keeping it from catching fire, but the exterior was badly scorched. Two streams of hose were played against the side of the house, continuously. During the course of the fire, Salvation Army men, who were at the scene, furnished firemen with sandwiches and coffee.

itself, but RAF bombers flew over the city as a warning. No bombs were dropped, however.

Apparently taking off from bases in Palestine, British aerial squadrons pressed home their first attack on the Mosul Daschid airdrome Saturday, according to the communiqué, which said this raid accounted for 22 planes on the ground.

In a second assault yesterday three more Iraqi planes were smashed. Iraqi air force had been estimated to have about 50 first-line planes before the fighting began.

As fighting went into the fourth day, an official bulletin said resumption of Iraqi aerial fire directed against the beleaguered Habbaniyah air base Sunday morning "inflicted some casualties among non-combatants."

But British planes soared over the outskirts of the airdrome, smashed several native guns and bombed and machine-gunned "hostile mechanized troops and transport."

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Berlin quarters quoted a "special" Iraq communiqué as saying that British planes bombed the "open city" of Falluja. A number of civilians were injured and the Mosque at Falluja was hit, these reports stated.

Land British Troops

(In New York, CBS picked up a Berlin radio broadcast which said heavy British cruiser and destroyer had arrived at Basra harbor where some 20,000 British Indian troops are said to have landed. Another 3,000 British reinforcements, the Berlin radio said, arrived at Haifa, Palestine on Friday.)

Despite the relentless battering by native siege guns both landing fields at Habbaniyah were said to be still in use today.

Explaining the British occupation of Basra after refusal of the pro-Axis forces of Premier Rashid Ali to let British troops retire from the area, an official London announcement said:

"The Iraqis agreed to withdraw their forces, but despite an extension of time they took no action. The British therefore drove them out by bombing and artillery fire."

The total occupation of the Basra area, it was pointed out, protects the approach to the world's richest single oil field located in southern Iran. This more gained added significance in the face of reports from Vichy that Iraqi had stopped the flow of oil along the vital pipeline from Kirkuk to Haifa, Palestine.

The center of the Iranian oil district lies less than 50 miles east and north of Basra. Iran produced 10,000,000 tons of oil in 1939 as against only 4,000,000 in Iraq.

thereon. Before this time last spring wax wing birds, with a little help of the robins, had eaten off all the berries. In the opinion of Owen Fox, city forester, early spring has evidently made it possible for the wax wings to obtain sufficient food, such as grubs, thus enabling them to pass up the mountain ash and barberry berries, the latter of which are quite bitter and eaten as a last resort when hungry.

House Wrens are here, which is about two weeks earlier than usual.

The wood thrush has also arrived and this bird is about three weeks ahead of schedule. Owen Fox states that wrens are quite plentiful this year. This is a Godsend to us, as from all indications we will have a dry season, which will help greatly to propagate a large amount of destroying insects. Wrens are great consumers of injurious insects. Those desiring to have wrens as their neighbors, Mr. Fox advises them to put up their wren houses at once, as these smart little birds are beginning to nest.

The bright weather of Sunday had the nature lovers out in force Sunday afternoon. At McCormick's Mills the parking space was clogged with cars and dozens of others were parked along the highways leading into the pleasure spot. A number of youngsters inaugurated the swimming season in the dam.

TIME CHANGE DEMON

After seeing the notice in Saturday's paper, I am going to be compelled to change my Ad for today. I had already planned to state in my Ad how happy I was that there had been nothing said about changing the time for New Castle, as just recently we had made several good sales in our wholesale department, and were told we were going to get considerable business of customers in the rural districts because we had made no change in time.

But, it seems this change in time is like a bad habit. No difference how hard one tries, it still keeps popping up again. We all know that we will not lose any business in New Castle by not having it, and anyone that is interested in business, or in New Castle the least bit, knows that we do lose business by having it.

Our State plays into the hands of Ohio cities on account of taxes. Is New Castle going to play into the hands of Ohio merchants, by changing the time?

We understand that those selling intoxicating liquors will appreciate this move as it will give them an hour more to keep open at night.

We earnestly urge mothers having children in school, theater owners, people from rural districts and all others who would be interested in this change, to attend the meeting at the Castleton Hotel Tuesday night to protest this thing. If some of the people in New Castle want to go to work earlier in the morning and quit earlier in the evening, that is their own business, but when they change time, they are interfering with other people's business.

A LESSON FROM 1906

IN APRIL, 1906, earthquake and fire wiped out the central district of San Francisco. Four and seven-tenths square miles were left in ruins. The fire loss was put at $350,000,000 and more than 28,000 buildings were damaged or wrecked.

Who could have imagined that the time would come when the capital of the British Empire, amid its rubble and smoke, would inquire of San Francisco how it rebuilt itself, how it guarded against a recurrence of such a disaster? Yet such is the case.

From London, through the Department of State at Washington, official inquiries have been made of Mayor Rossi of San Francisco. He replies that San Francisco rebuilt itself as nearly fireproof as was possible at that time; that adequate water reserves and a high pressure water system were considered essential; that methods were adopted to minimize the effect of a breakage in the water mains. The mayor also explained how ownership of land was reestablished after the destruction of records.

The wrecking of San Francisco was due to a natural disaster, what is called in legal documents an act of God. The wrecking of London is due to no natural disaster; it is done at the will and on the orders of a man. In 1906 San Francisco was, in varied aspects, still a frontier, at least a pioneer town. It was rebuilt according to the best engineering skill then available, without losing its distinctive character.

There are great areas of London, on the physical side, which can stand rebuilding. It is the hope of the British government to reconstruct the shattered areas according to modern ideas of space, light, and housing convenience. London, like San Francisco, once had a great fire and rebuilt itself without losing its character. There can be no doubt that London can do so again.

RECREATION IN THE SERVICES

Acceptance by District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey of New York of the national chairmanship of the United Service Organizations for National Defense assures direction by a dynamic personality that inspires public confidence.

It is a good thing that recreation facilities for soldiers, sailors and defense workers at 399 centers near military reservations are to be unified. Much more can be expected from the Y. M. C. A., Salvation Army, National Catholic Community Service, Y. W. C. A., Jewish Welfare Board and the National Travelers' Aid Association in a consolidated movement with a nation-wide appeal for funds than if they were functioning separately. The campaign to raise $10,976,000 will extend four weeks from June 3 to July 1.

STRIKE LOSSES REVEALED

Statements released by government sources during the worst of the defense industry strikes in recent weeks to the effect that stoppage of work was not serious are refuted by the National Association of Manufacturers. The association discloses that during the first three months of this year 3,022,918 man-days were lost as a result of strikes, of which 1,577,816 were in defense industries. The loss in March was greater than the combined January-February losses.

Production lost by strikes can usually be regained when work is resumed. But production that is now lost is different. It is needed for the American defense program, and for the defense of Britain. Suspension of work on British supplies may be very costly to Britain's defense. Supplies the British fail to receive because of American strikes may mean a vital difference.

Says the association: "Every action on the part of government, employers, and employees should promote the complete and uninterrupted utilization of all our facilities, both human and material. Only in that manner can we be sure of defending the rights and liberties which we as Americans hold to be vital to our way of life."

But it is obvious that largely for lack of a vigorous national discipline there is a waste of strength at a critical time that should be avoided.

BEAVERBROOK TO THE RESCUE

Appointment of Lord Beaverbrook, with the title of Minister of State, to rule Britain's war industries, is the most dramatic feature of the Churchill cabinet shakeup, which ought to make for efficiency and help to still the government's critics.

There has been an insistent demand for new men at the top. In his new position Lord Beaverbrook is said to have attained the status of Deputy Prime Minister, with powers that could scarcely be more far-reaching in a democracy even in wartime.

Known as "the man who gets things done," he has scant regard for red tape and bureaucracy. Unlike the average Englishman—he is of Canadian birth—Beaverbrook doesn't believe in precedents. His favorite pastime is smashing ancient, outworn traditions.

Although there are conflicting reports, there is reason to believe that as Minister of Aircraft Production Beaverbrook did step up the program for his rough-and-ready methods. Now he is to exercise his talents for organization over virtually all British industry.

Regardless of Beaverbrook's abilities, this centralization of authority seems to be just what Britain requires if it is to win the war. The merging of Shipping and Transport is another sound move. Beaverbrook's new assignment is to "produce miracles." He may not do that, but Britain's war industry setup should be substantially strengthened with the little lord at the top.

A woman preacher in New England says she will not give up her profession after she is married but will continue to preach. Just like a woman.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

SHARING HOME TASKS DISCIPLINES CHILD

As I go about in our country I am inspired at the way some youths take responsibility. I see it in the high school, among the Scouts, in the Y's, K of C's, 4-H Clubs, and various other groups of youths. It is heartening to be introduced to a high school assembly as I often am, by a student, to see an assembly program conducted solely by students and to see these young folks managing many of the affairs of the school which used to be managed, often not so well, by the teachers. Moreover, it is heartening to participate in a discussion by youths themselves. They express themselves very well.

In contrast with these many splendid contributions by certain young people, the lack of readiness to share responsibilities when considerable effort and self-sacrifice are required, especially when no immediate rewards them, is not so reassuring.

As any teacher knows, there are scores of times at school when the most essential duties by one or several students require effort and self-denial on their part if they are to contribute to the good of the group.

Responsibility Important

That the prevailing philosophy of education in home and school assumes that practically everything must be immediately motivated, interpreted by the average parent, it means the child should be allowed to do about as he pleases and should not be expected to do what he does not want to do. Yet you and I have to do practically every day a number of things we would rather not do. Sometimes we run away from these unpleasant things, but the more we shirk responsibility, the harder we are to live with and the more burdens we shift to others.

Now I'm for more good motivation at home and school. But I am convinced it is not at all practical to assume that we can make nearly all essential duties and responsibilities pleasant. In the long run they may grow to be their own reward, yet the earlier hurdles have to be leaped with effort which is sometimes born of coercion.

In the home the well brought-up child learns to do a few definite chores at regular times. He can't escape just because he feels they are unessential. Here we are concerned. (Continued on Page Seven)

The World and the Mud Puddles

THERE IS A DIFFERENCE

Members of the American Legion remember how they felt during the last war. Many of them had been drafted to serve in the United States Army and they served well for twenty-one dollars a month. They, however, remember, too, how a great number of their fellow citizens of draft age were excused from service that they might work at their trades in plants manufacturing munitions of war. They remember, too, the pay that these men received who worked at home. There was a great difference between twenty-one dollars a month and seven, eight or nine dollars a day paid to those who escaped the draft.

It is true today as it was then. Young men are being drafted and are being paid twenty-one dollars a month. Other men, not drafted, are striking for more pay although they are receiving many times twenty-one dollars a month and I wonder how the draftees are feeling about it.

Every training camp in this country is lacking supplies of all kinds due to an output constantly slowed up by striking labor and many of the workers who are idling are men who have been excused from the draft because of their importance to defense output. In the event the United States was drawn into this conflict over night, the 70 cents-a-day draftees would have to face the enemy without adequate arms, ammunition or equipment, because their fancy brothers, who are making eight dollars a day and time and a half for overtime, are too busy trying to get their wages to get down to honest work.

The other day a citizen was defending the strikers and said: "The men who work at such-and-such an airplane factory only get eighty cents an hour—they're justified in striking."

The remark was made in the presence of a young man who had enlisted in the Navy—sailors are paid thirty dollars a month—and the Navy man answered: "Well, heck, I do the same kind of work for one dollar a day! I think those who pull a strike on a defense job should be drafted into the army. That would learn 'em!"

He that overcometh, the same shall be clothed in white raiment; and I will not blot out his name out of the book of life, but I will confess his name before my Father, and before his angels. Rev. 3:5.

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight 6:38; sun rises tomorrow 4:55.

We are not superstitious about walking under a ladder, but we are afraid some bird on it will drop a monkey-wrench or sumpin' on us.

No trucks should be allowed to block a sidewalk at any time. Some not only block the sidewalks but also the streets often for a long time.

It seems there is one thing President Roosevelt cannot recognize and that is competency. He has lots of it in Washington. A wise man will get wise men to help him.

No doubt the bugs and worms appreciate an early and warm spring. The golf players also enjoy it.

THE PROPOSAL

I never kin forget the day That we went out a-walkin' An' sot down at the river bank An' kept on hours a-talkin'; He twisted up my apron string An' folded it together An' said he thought for harvest time 'Twas curst kind o' weather.

The sun went down as we sot there—Josiah seemed uneasy. An' mother she began to call "Loweezy! oh Loweezy!" An' then Josiah spoke right up As I was just a-startin' He must a seen the fire; An' ever since that hour I've loved An' worshipped my Josiah.

It kinder took me by surprise. An' yet I knew 'twas comin'—An' I'd heard it all the summer long. In every wild bee's hummin'; I'd studied out the way I'd act. But Law! I couldn't do it; I meant to hide my love from him. But seems as if he knew it. An' lookin' down into my eyes He must a seen the fire; An' ever since that hour I've loved An' worshipped my Josiah.

"That bashful young doctor has just returned from Paris where he took a special course." "I wonder if he learned anything?" "I'll say he did! I went motorin' with him last night!"

A Croton boy asked his dad if he had any difference between a gun and a machine gun. "Yes, my son. It's just about the same as if I spoke, and then your mother spoke."

Speaking of hobbies, as someone was, we recall an old friend, one that we regard highly, whose hobby was making a man of himself.

Her case is hopeless if men and women agree that she'd make some man a wonderful wife.

Soap is nicer when the cake is half gone. The "delightful scent" quits stinking.

In places where they do not have daylight saving time the saloons are kept open an hour later in the evenings. That's sumpin'.

A good dog-catcher is one who don't care much about dogs.

An alienist has prescribed 'gol' for the insane. Persons who do not play golf are invited to make what they wish of it.

There are people, who, when they get a bigger job, get a bigger head.

Now that a marble quarry has been discovered at Bessemer, people in this vicinity will know where to get a grave stone or monument when they want one.

It is claimed that the average person loses from 1 to 50 hairs daily. Many of them can be found in things to eat.

Good Taste

Young man, you cannot get a job after you are 50 and you cannot get a pension until you are 65. If you are working now you had better lay away a few dollars for 15 years of rainy days.

Always about this time of the year some birds get the idea that they should get their hair cut. They are like sheep in some ways.

After the first fifteen minutes, what do women say to each other by telephone in the next fifteen minutes?

The conscientious objector should be excused if he can prove that he never injures people with hateful words, either.

Prominently displayed on posts all over New York City is this sign: "The Law—Clean Your Sidewalk—Curb Your Dog."

In our opinion, the average city sweeper is as many containers for the disposal of waste as are now provided. Some of us dislike to throw things on the sidewalk or into the street, but we can't make waste-baskets of our pockets.

Nevertheless landowners and tenants should do a better job of cleaning, not only in New York but in every other American city.

He had just been appointed judge and it was his first day on the bench. His first case was a bootlegger. A little uncertain as to what penalty to inflict, he excused himself a minute, went outside and called an old judge aside.

"Judge," he said, "I've got a bootlegger in there and I don't know what to give him."

The old judge scowled and replied: "Don't give him over four dollars for the stuff! I never do!"

Still, there's little difference between killing a duck you don't need and a robin you don't need.

Half the population still thinks a plane's noise is made by the motor. You see, that one hasn't been on a quiz program yet.

Say, man, a nice thing for you to do when you go home and find that your wife has cleaned house all day, is to ask her to go out for dinner. Of course she will have to have time to get dressed.

Sign in a barber shop: "If you've got nothing to do please do it somewhere else."

If men stare at a strapless evening gown it isn't rudeness or admiration but fascinated expectancy.

"Yes," said the tired insurance agent, "I once induced a man to take out a $25,000 insurance policy, and the very next day after he got the policy he dropped dead."

"I suppose you wished your persuasive powers had not been so successful?"

"Well, hardly. You see, I married the widow."

No matter how prominent or popular some people get, they most always do some fool things that get them a bump in the neck—or somewhere.

When some people are handed a lemon they make lemonade out of it.

Very often we see people suffering from suppressed conversation.

It is not always a bum radio, it's a bum on the radio.

When we see a sign "Gentlemen Only" we hesitate about going into the place.

What's What At A Glance

Philosopher Looks Into The Future
Says We Will Be Poorer But Better
Richness Has Made People Too Soft

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, May 5.—Just to dispose of a few wartime, post-war-time and defensive odds and ends: Will Durant, noted philosopher and historian, speaking a few nights ago at a meeting in Washington's nearby Maryland, gave it as his opinion that America is destined to become a better nation, whether the democracies or the Axis countries win the pending conflict. We'll be stronger in either case, he said. He admitted that we'll be poorer, too. But, he added, we're too rich and comfortable. That is what has made us so soft, he remarked.

It was a cheering speech, in a way. A lot of folk have been asserting that we'll be left in terrible shape if the Axis aggression wins. It is glad tidings to hear that we'll be better off even so. Some people still doubt it, but it is the virtually unanimous verdict that we'll be poorer alright.

Leon Henderson, boss economist in the government's defensive setup, by implication agrees with Philosopher Durant that we'll benefit by being poorer, at least for a spell, and then a frightful slump when the emergency passes, prices subside and the boom busts.

Furthermore, the encouraging prediction is made that Leon will cut his wish—our buying capacity certainly will be reduced when Treasury Secretary Morgenthau's new schedule of income taxes takes effect.

Fewer Automobiles

There's another note of cheer (for pedestrians) in the news that auto manufacturers have promised to trim their output of civilians' motor cars by 20 per cent in order to concentrate upon production of military supplies.

Some pessimists to be sure, forecast that the remaining 80 per cent will scorch correspondingly faster than they do now. However, it should mean a bulge in the value of existing cars. That'll be a boon to today's owners—and, of course, they're a vast majority of our population.

It isn't so pleasant to learn that the cost of war, or preparation for it, is two or three times as high now as in the 1914-1918 period. Not that prices are greatly higher, but there are so many more newly invented and greatly-improved gadgets to be provided—not little bits of gadgets, but perfectly enormous ones, like tanks and planes, as large as an old-time battleship.

Our experts, though, are doing their utmost to economize. For instance, the cases of the provision of cantonment facilities at two of Washington's neighboring army posts—Forts Belvoir and Meade.

It originally was estimated that $6,000,000 would cover the Belvoir expenditure and the other day the House of Representatives' military committee was notified that, due to the army authorities' penny-pinching, the item actually is being held down to $14,000,000. Fort Meade's more ambitious cantonment, that was scheduled to cost $8,500,000. But there, too, the clamps were exercised so rigorously that the military affairs committee's advised that $22,000,000 will cover the bill.

May Cost More

Of course, the work isn't quite finished. The $14,000,000 and $22,000,000 budgets are only estimates, like the initial $6,000,000 and $8,500,000 guesses. When the jobs are done the totals may run a trifle higher than $14,000,000 and $22,000,000.

Yet it goes to show how tightly wadded those army engineers are handling their appropriations.

Changing the subject, a few days ago Clark Porteus, a Memphis newspaperman, hit Washington, not as a newspaperman but as manager of

U. S. Steel Alone Tops Production In All Germany

(International News Service)

HOBOKEN, N. J., May 5.—If the present rate of operations for United States Steel is maintained for a 12-month period, production of that one corporation alone will top the annual production of all German steel producers.

Irving S. Olds, board chairman, told stockholders today that production and shipments for the first quarter have established new records and U. S. Steel is ready to expand at any time the government deems necessary.

at the same rate, will surpass not only the production of German steel mills but equal the combined before-the-war production of Great Britain, France and Belgium, Olds de-

Why Plans Go into the Waste-basket!

WHEN A WHOLE new industry which expects to employ 10,000 workers decides to move into a rural section where the nearest town has less than 3,000 population—there's a whale of a job for a lot of folks!

And it makes telephone problems, too!

Plans for normal telephone growth must go into the waste-basket. New plans must be made in a hurry.
Equipment in the central office must be expanded. A complete telephone system for the new factory must be provided.

More telephones must be placed in hundreds of new homes and new stores. Cable to provide circuits for more out-of-town calls must be constructed. New operators hired and trained to handle the thousands of calls.

This is happening here in Pennsylvania—in Bucks County—where a huge bomber assembly plant is going up.
And in other parts of the State, too, booming towns, new factories, roaring activity in every industry and business are making tremendous demands for telephone service.

Today this company is engaged in an all-out drive of manpower, materials and money—to keep Bell telephone service up to the demands of Pennsylvania's biggest job.

MR. AND MRS. F. NEAL ANNIVERSARY PARTY

A gala celebration was that honoring Mr. and Mrs. Frank Neal of the New Bedford road, when their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sheets, also of the same locality on route 422, entertained Saturday evening for a few invited guests as a medium of celebrating their thirtieth wedding anniversary.

In addition to making it an anniversary event, it was discovered to be the birthday of Mr. Neal and also that of his sister, Mrs. Doris Pulman of the Pulaski road, who shared in the informal evening's program.

The house was transformed into a garden setting with clusters of daisies being arranged in every nook and corner. Reminiscing of olden days, and the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Neal, provided interesting conversation. Following, the group was served a tasty lunch, at tables cleverly appointed in keeping with the wedding motif. A large cake was prominently placed as a special feature, and aides to the hosts, were Miss Elsie Lyons and Mrs. Bertha Sheets.

An array of lovely gifts, were received by the honored ones, further commemorating the happy occasion.

Auto Industry Would Operate Seven Day Week

Ready To Cooperate In Defense Program Of President Roosevelt

SOME HANDICAPS TO BE OVERCOME

(International News Service)
DETROIT, May 5.—The automobile industry is willing to utilize every facility at hand to fulfill President Roosevelt's request for a 24-hour day, seven day week on defense projects, spokesmen said today but added that such a goal is some distance away.

Spokesmen and executives advanced four points as to why an "around the clock" schedule is still more or less in the theory stage as far as they are concerned. The reasons were:

- 1—New men must be hired to round out a full force of employees on each shift.
- 2—Experienced men must be shifted from present day or evening employment to either afternoon or night work.
- 3—Staggered work weeks must be created in order that Saturday and Sunday work may be carried under a five day work week schedule.
- 4—Purchasing and delivery schedules must be revised to maintain a steady flow toward production lines.

Harry Bennett, personal director of the Ford Motor company, commented thusly:

"We have operated some departments such as the glass plant and foundry on a seven day-week for years. Since being awarded defense contracts some other departments have also been working 24 hour days, six days a week. With slight revision it may be possible to carry the entire defense project of the Ford Motor company through the full week."

C. E. Wilson, president of the General Motors, declared in a statement that GM machinery was now operating about "half time" and that it could be put on a full production basis as soon as an agreement is reached with the UAW-CIO with whom the corporation is now negotiating.

A Chrysler Corporation spokesman said:

"There is no doubt but that a full week program of production could be worked out. However, there are many major problems which would delay such a program for a short time. We must work out a practical system to operate the machines continuously and still not work the men more than the present number of hours per week."

It has been estimated from time to time that the industry has about $1,500,000,000 in defense contracts.

All Ready To Step Out On Circus Day

Two of the 40 tons of Wallace Brothers Circus elephants are seen above and will appear on circus day when the big show comes to New Castle on Monday, May 12.

The Wallace brothers Circus all dressed up in new attire will invade New Castle for two performances on Monday, May 12, when its billowing city of big-tops are erected upon the Mahoning at Cedar street show grounds.

Flashing with modernistic ideas, costly trappings and completely revamped, the Wallace Brothers Circus is the truly most colossal aggregation of all time.

Hundreds of all new features including celebrated equestrienne troupes, aerialistic displays of note, groups of thrilling arenic marvels, many appearing upon the continent for the first time. Troupes of mirthful mimics from the land of fun, squadrons of expert horsemen, world renowned animal trainers, with boasts of every kind which will be on display in their dens when the big show opens its doors on "Circus day" for leisurely inspection before the performances start. Vast conchaves of equilibristic dare-devils, contortionists, jugglers, skaters, acrobatic thrillers and scores of delightful attractions for both young and old in a gay festival of circus wonders.

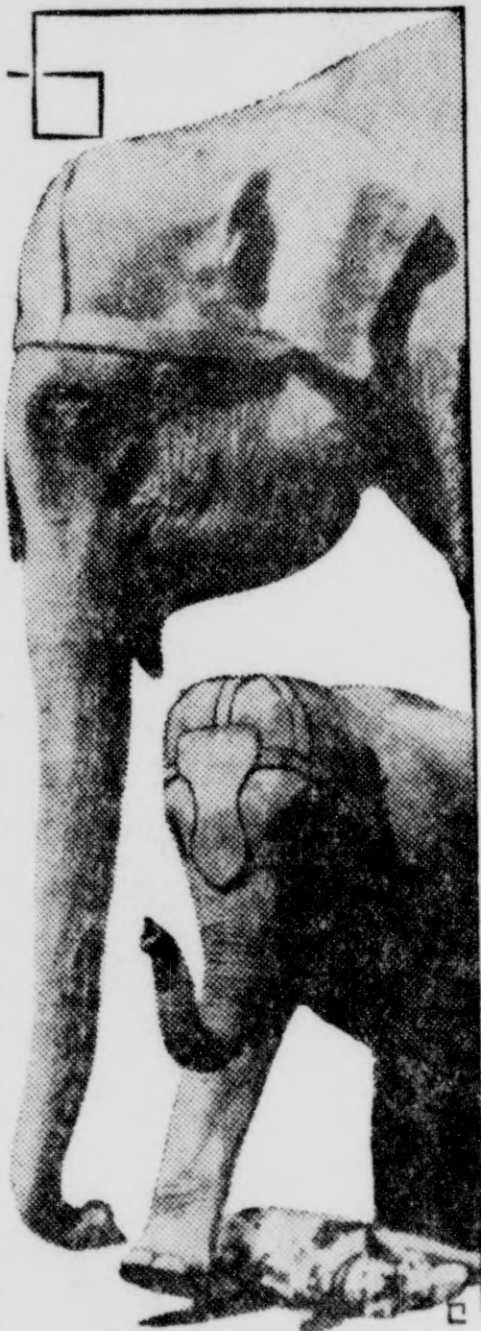

Heading the enormous array of stupendous features will be Miss Erma Ward, the titan haired queen of the air who has recently returned from a European tour and will once again thrill the circus audiences upon this continent with her sensational aerial accomplishments.

The Arley troupe, ever loved favorites of the land of sawdust and spangles will be seen with Wallace Brothers for the first time in their all new and novel perch pole feats.

Ross, Rosa & Ross, the clown prince of fun who with his 30 plowns keeps oldsters and youngsters in gaiety from the start to the end of the great show.

An extra added feature of the circus will be Baron Richard Nowak, the smallest man ever known in the world who stands 23 inches tall, weighs 17 pounds and is 20 years of age.

Lee Powell, the original talking picture "Lone Ranger" who was recently seen in the screen epic "Hi-Yo, Silver," rides ahead of the vast conclave of rough riders.

will also be plenty of laughs caused by Ed Raymond, the clown prince of fun who with his 30 plowns keeps oldsters and youngsters in gaiety from the start to the end of the great show.

The Great Game Of Politics

a court which can be depended upon to reflect his political philosophy and stand by his legislative experiments.

UNDER such circumstances, from his standpoint, there has been no reason for Mr. Roosevelt to bother about filling the existing vacancy on the bench. He has the court where he wanted it, with or without the ninth member. And from the standpoint of the country it makes no difference either, because the President is quite certain to select for the place another political supporter. Nevertheless, the delay is almost unprecedented. It is now going on four months. Since Justice McReynolds retired, since Justice Brandeis has been seriously mentioned in connection with the appointment—Attorney General Robert Jackson and Senator James M. Byrnes, of South Carolina.

YET the President has seemed unable to make up his mind. At times he has been reported as inclined to name Senator Byrnes and hold Mr. Jackson back for the "next vacancy." At other times, his friends say, he has seemed impressed by the argument that he could not afford to take Senator Byrnes out of the Senate because of the weakness of the Senate leadership. There also has been the argument—made very privately by some of the extreme left-wing New Dealers—that Senator Byrnes, while a loyal supporter of the President, is too clear-headed really to believe in the New Deal doctrines and, once on the bench, might very easily tend toward the views of the chief justice.

MOREOVER, he is so persuasive that he might possibly induce one of the "Frankfurter five" to go along with him. Of course, that is an obviously strained view which comes from certain betic fellows in their flushed moments. It is a fact, however, that those of the so-called "inner circle" would consider Mr. Jackson very much more "one of them" and naturally prefer him. At this time the best-informed belief seems to be that Senator Byrnes will get the job—and pretty soon at that. There are two reasons for this. One is that last Tuesday Mr. Roosevelt, replying to a South Carolina delegation, said that he expected to make the appointment soon and hopes "South Carolina will not be disappointed."

THIS, of course, was construed as meaning that he expects to name Senator Byrnes. The South Carolinians took it that way. So did Senator Byrnes' colleagues in the Senate who have been urging him on the President. So did the press. The other reason is that some days before the President saw the South Carolinians, Mr. Frankfurter, speaking to a friend of Senator Byrnes, expressed himself as "highly delighted" at the prospect of the Senator coming on the court. He said that the Senator is "just the man we need."

OFFICERS NAMES

Talent club members held a meeting Friday evening, with Henry Bogdan in charge, at which time several officers were named. Rudy Eagan, financial secretary and treasurer, James White and Edith DePols.

The brighter side is this. When every day and folly and blunder has been paid for with blood and suffering, the tide will turn.

BLAME YOUR LIVER IF—

If your liver doesn't secrete 20 to 30 ounces of bile every day, your intestines—constipation, with its headaches, mental dullness and that "half-alive" feeling often result. So you see how important it is to keep bile flowing freely! And what finer aid could one desire than Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, used so successfully for years by Dr. F. M. Edwards for treating his patients for constipation and sluggish liver bile.

Olive Tablets are unsurpassed in effectiveness because they stimulate liver bile to help digest fatty foods, they tone up muscular intestinal action, at the same time help elimination. Being purely vegetable, Olive Tablets are wonderful! Test their supreme goodness TONIGHT! 15c, 50c, 60c. All drugstores.

Community Hall Project,

$600 Backing

Castlewood residents, with a total of $600 already paid or pledged, today sought additional donations for their new community hall building project.

Tuesday night at 8 in Castlewood school the Castlewood residents and firemen will discuss the drive's progress.

General Chairman Conrad Houk of the building fund committee reported that "construction is going to start as soon as more funds are available." The building, headquarters for Shenango Township Fire Department No. 2 and for all Castlewood affairs, will rise in the heart of that Shenango township community.

Serving with Chairman Houk are Joe Cowan, assistant general chairman, and Norman McHattie, treasurer. Other Castlewood residents are on the committee.

Houk indicated the Castlewood firemen would be on call for duty in all sections of the township.

The Parent Problem

cerned with the home with no mind. Do you know that only five homes out of 100 in America has domestic help? The growing child in these other 95 homes who does not learn to share in some of the common drudgeries is missing the most precious moral education possible. Even in the 5 per cent of homes with a maid, the maid properly has a day off when the child who is old enough should, for his own character, share in the home chores.

I hear from some parents who tell how they have cultivated self-reliance and responsibility in their children. May I hear from more?

Solving Parent Problems

Q Please suggest a way to cure the child four or five of leaving his coat, rubbers, hat, etc., on the playground.

A For each and every offense let him sit where you can see him in a chair doing nothing for about 40 minutes.

Q Many well-conducted nursery schools give the tots cod liver oil in orange juice. Yet you advise against giving cod liver oil in any fruit juice at home. Please explain.

A Some children given cod liver oil or medicine in fruit juice dislike the fruit juice and avoid it all their life thereafter. A number of adults have told me this happened to them. This unfortunate association is not so likely to happen in the nursery school where all children easily do "what everybody does," and where unfortunate suggestions by adults are rarely made.

Have you a money problem which character and regular income than to solve? Here is a simple way to borrow without endorsers or guarantors—and at rates substantially below the law-fair maximum. If you have a job and can make monthly payments you are invited to come in and see us about getting a loan up to $300.

Suppose that you need $100. Find this amount in the first column of the table. Then read across picking out the monthly payments convenient for you to make. All you do

All you do to apply for your loan is to acquaint us with your problem. Loans are made on furniture, car or note.

The payments in the table include all charges. These charges are calculated at Household's rate of 2 1/2% per month on that part of a balance not exceeding $100, and 2% per month on that part of a balance in excess of $100. The Small Loan Law permits us to charge a substantially higher rate than this. Some finance companies do charge a higher rate. As publish our payments and rate of charge so that you may compare costs before you borrow.

Phone or visit us for full information without obligation.

WE GUARANTEE The total amount figured by using this table to be the full amount you will pay, when payments are made on schedule. You will pay less if you pay your loan ahead of time since you pay charges only for the actual time you have the money.

Dr. Dafoe's Column On The Quintuplets And The Care Of Your Children

ENVIRONMENT SHOWN AGAIN TO BE MORE INFLUENTIAL THAN HEREDITY

Old ideas die hard, and perhaps new findings will not shake the beliefs of the hereditarians, but there is more evidence of the soundness of the position of the environmentalists, in the studies of Dr. Ida L. Wellman of Iowa University, concerning the question of which is the most influential factor in shaping human character and intelligence, heredity or environment.

The hereditarians hold, of course, that your character is as good as determined the moment you are born and that very little change can be wrought in it by the circumstances of your life. The environmentalists believe, on the other hand, that the child of any parents can be made the equal of or superior of the offspring of any other mother and father if only the proper influences are present in its upbringing.

Personally, I favor the environmentalists. The hereditarians are too pessimistic in their view of life. It seems to me, I have always urged on young men and young women the necessity of mating well if they wished to be assured of healthy, normal children, but I am so sure that environment decides what course the child's development takes that I always urge parents to study how they can insure that their children have the advantage of the best influences in their formative years.

The most that some of the hereditarians have been willing to concede is that good environment might make a difference of a few points, less than ten, in the I. Q. of a child. But Dr. Wellman's tests now indicate I. Q.'s can be changed as much as forty points by environment.

Considering that the I. Q. rating of a normal average intellect is from 90 to 110 points, while those from 90 to 80 points are considered dull normals, 80 to 70 are borderline, and 70 and below are rated feeble-minded, the significance of Dr. Wellman's observations can be seen. They are not isolated evidence, either, for they are supported by previous findings in the long series of studies at the Child Welfare Research Station at University of Iowa. However, previous findings were that I. Q.s. could be changed about 20 points by environment. Now it appears environment can change a feeble-minded child into a bright intellect, or vice versa.

It must be kept in mind that environment works both ways. By neglect, a normally intelligent child can be reduced to the feeble-minded class. At Iowa, the bright child, placed among dull children in an orphanage, showed losses in intelligence; while the dull child moved upward in I. Q. to the average level of the same group.

This fact is one explanation of why some children who show exceptional intelligence for their age in their earlier years become duller as they grow up.

These findings should have the greatest interest to parents and educators.

Extensive Probe Of Communists Now Under Way

(International News Service)
DELAND, Fla., May 5.—The department of justice is now making the most extensive investigation of Communist, Nazi and "other suspected subversive organizations" ever planned in the United States, assistant attorney general Wendell Berne revealed in a speech at John B. Stetson University.

Berne said that the investigation will be a complete analysis of the types and methods of subversive acts which will permit the department to determine the organizations which are plotting against the United States and those lawfully disseminating propaganda. At the same time Berne said that it was doubtful whether outlawing these groups would accomplish much more than to drive them further underground.

Your Pre-School Child

"THE DENTAL PROBLEM"

In our routine examination of school children this current school year we found that of 727 children in the first grade present for examination, 226 of them, or thirty-one per cent, had teeth seriously defective and needing immediate dental treatment. Since this proportion has been equally high in the past we are forced to assume that the future will show no practical improvement. Unless, of course, we are able to convince the parents of pre-school children of their responsibility in the care of their children's teeth.

The detrimental effects of decayed teeth, unlike most physical illnesses, are not instantly apparent. Yet the infection—for it is that—remaining constantly active and spreading unimpeded has a definitely deleterious effect on the child's entire physical being. The result on the child's immature defense system and general health is comparable to the damage done by other localized chronic infections. The end result should be evident.

The fact that the teeth involved are primary, or "baby" teeth does not alter the condition in this respect. And further, the same underlying factors that have caused the initial decay in the primary teeth will probably continue unhindered to act similarly on the permanent, or "second" teeth. It is also known that tooth decay is able to spread by contact. This means that new permanent teeth, as they erupt, are liable to decay merely by virtue of their position next to, and in contact with, a defective "baby" tooth. And since the permanent teeth are guided in their eruption by the antecedent primary teeth, the early loss of the latter through excessive degressive and nothing can be gained by the policy of waiting.

To us as parents this leads to but one conclusion: A child of pre-school age is certainly not accountable for the condition of his teeth. Knowing as we do, the great importance of sound, healthy teeth, both "baby" and permanent, and both with regard to general health as well as for the significant cosmetic effect in later life, we must give our children the proper home training in efficient dental prophylaxis and give our dentists the opportunity to maintain these teeth in the best possible condition.

And we must do this—now.

Medical Director,
New Castle Public Schools.

SMALL FIRE AT SYLVAN HEIGHTS

Fourth ward firemen made a run to Sylvan Heights golf course about 6 o'clock Sunday evening, when someone dropped a lighted cigarette into a hole in one of the hollow posts supporting the front porch. Manager Walter S. Hart notified Assistant Fire Chief George Harper who sent fourth ward firemen to the scene. The fire was extinguished with but slight damage, but had the blaze worked its way up the pillar to the roof, it might have communicated to the clubhouse.

Hitler In Speech Makes Challenge To Democracies

Asserts Germany Can't Be Beaten

Makes Speech Before Reichstag In Opera House In Berlin Sunday

MORE ARMAMENT SPEED IS URGED

(International News Service)
BERLIN, May 5.—Proclaiming the Reich and its allies "superior to any possible coalition of our enemies," Chancellor Hitler left a bitter challenge today to "democratic agitators" who threaten Germany.

Addressing the Reichstag in Berlin's Kroll opera house, the Fuehrer called for continued advances in German armament and declared: "Nobody can be allowed to catch up with us. On the contrary, we must extend our advantage. Millions of German women are relieving men in the hardest toil. We ask all Germans to sacrifice for the common goal."

"For that struggle we are able to mobilize more than half of Europe's working hands... the German people never again will witness a 1918."

Superior To Any Coalition
"I can assure you, deputies of the Reichstag, that the German Reich and its allies are now strong enough militarily, economically and—more important—morally, to be superior to any possible coalition of our enemies."

"We will meet our enemies when and where we can. We fight not alone for our very life, but for liberation of the world from a plot of unscrupulous politicians who are attempting to subordinate the happiness of peoples to their base egoism."

"The German measures in Greece are not designed to help Italy, but to oppose the British in the new theater of war selected by them."

"No Designs On Turkey"
"As far as Turkey is concerned, Germany has never had any designs upon that country."

"After all, Turkey was Germany's ally during the last war."

"Fortunately, the wise leaders of Turkey decided that it would have been foolish of them if they had allowed themselves to be deceived by British promises..."

Hitler said that he had "tried up to the last minute to keep the war away" from the Balkans.

"But peace was not to be," the Fuehrer said. "As a result of a desperate British coup, Yugoslavia rescinded the agreement it had just concluded with Germany. In the face of this treachery, there was no alternative for Germany but to take up arms and safeguard the interests of the greater Reich."

Hitler made only two allusions to the United States. The first came when he charged the "so-called democracies on both sides of the Atlantic" engineered outbreak of the war, and the second when he accused "American warmongers" of "confusing" people regarding his peace offers.

POLLY BUTZ

FRED THOMPSON

Polly Butz and Fred Thompson, who have been cast for parts in the coming class play of the graduating class at the senior high school, are by now veteran troupers, having already had prominent parts in two other high school plays. Polly Butz was Janey herself in "Janey's One-Track Mind" and Penny Palmer in "Swing Fever." Fred Thompson was Tommy in the former play and Alex in the latter. In the coming play, "Young April," Polly has still another glamour role in the person of Diane. Fred Thompson interprets yet another of his amateur adult parts as George McIntyre.

Both Polly and Fred are well known in the bustling academic scene at the senior high school. Polly is a member of the French club, is on the cabinet of the Girl Reserves, is a member of the Girls' Etiquette club, the Rifle club, the library Dofobs, and is a reporter for the school newspaper. Fred has been a cheerleader for two years; he has served his class of June '41 as a sub-treasurer and will figure on class-day as class-knocker; he has participated in student government as usher and hall monitor. "Freddie" has, however, confined his club membership to the Jolly Good Fellows.

Polly Butz is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul F. Butz of East Lincoln avenue. Fred is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James D. Thompson of East Madison avenue.

The Manufacturers Light and Heat Company Announces

New Gas Rates

For Its Customers in Pennsylvania

(with the exception of Somerset County)

The Manufacturers Light and Heat Company has filed with the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission, in Harrisburg, a new schedule of gas rates which will go into effect July 2, 1941. These new rates—which represent increases for smaller consumptions, and decreases for larger consumptions—are necessary to offset increases in the cost of gas and gas service, increased wages and higher costs of materials, and taxes which as everyone knows have mounted rapidly in recent years.

These unavoidable increases in the cost of doing business have reduced the earnings of the company to a point far below what is considered, according to past rulings of the Utility Commission, to be fair and equitable.

Because we want our customers to know all the facts about these new rates—and the reasons for them—we are explaining below, in detail, the new rate schedule, the present company earnings, the increases in operating expenses which make these new rates necessary, and the manner in which the new rates will affect users in various consumption brackets.

COMPANY EARNINGS ARE OBVIOUSLY INADEQUATE

Total net earnings of The Manufacturers Light and Heat Company for the year 1940, as filed with the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission, amounted to $1,574,869.02 on a valuation of $69,552,000, which is equivalent to a return of only 2 1/4%.

These figures are subject to adjustments for depreciation and amortization, and other items, which will substantially reduce the net income for 1940.

The earnings and valuation figures shown above are for the company as a whole, covering operations in parts of Ohio and West Virginia as well as in Pennsylvania.

A 2 1/4% return on the Company's valuation is obviously inadequate for any business, especially one as hazardous as the natural gas business. It is less by a great deal than is necessary to attract new capital; it is less by a great deal than is necessary to maintain any business on a sound basis; and it is just over one-third of the 6% rate of return that the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission previously has held to be fair.

REASONS FOR INADEQUATE COMPANY EARNINGS

There are several reasons for the present inadequate earnings of the Company. These are:

1. To meet higher competitive prices paid for gas from independently owned wells.
2. The necessity for deeper drilling, the increasing number of dry and less productive wells, and the necessity for transporting gas from increasingly distant fields.
3. The step-up in cost of materials and supplies for drilling, transmission and distribution.
4. Substantial wage increases to the Company's employees.
5. A marked increase in taxes.

The increases represented by the items above have reduced net earnings to a point far below an adequate return. Additional increases in these costs in the future are almost certain.

An increase in rates is the only means available to the Company to offset these rising costs of doing business and to assure earnings sufficient to enable the Company to render an adequate and dependable service.

A MAJORITY OF PRESENT MONTHLY BILLS REPRESENT A LOSS

The present cost of standing ready to serve a customer—not actually serving him, and not including the cost of gas—is $1.10 per month. This includes each customer's share of the cost of operating the distribution system.

When the production and transmission costs of the gas delivered to the distribution system are added to this "ready-to-serve cost," it is found that a majority of monthly bills represent a loss to the company.

The New Gas Rates*

THE MANUFACTURERS LIGHT AND HEAT COMPANY

(Customers in Allegheny, Beaver, Butler, Greene, Lawrence, Mercer and Washington Counties in Pennsylvania)

First	400 cu. ft. or less per month	$1.00
Next	600 cu. ft.	.07 per hundred
Next	4,000 cu. ft.	.65 per thousand
Next	5,000 cu. ft.	.60 per thousand
All over	10,000 cu. ft.	.40 per thousand

These new rates compare with present charges of $1.00 for the first 1,600 cubic feet or less per month, 60¢ per thousand up to 15,000 cubic feet per month, 45¢ per thousand for the next 85,000 cubic feet, and 42¢ per thousand from 100,000 cubic feet up.

* ALL rates shown here are net after deducting discount for prompt payment.

HOW THE NEW GAS RATES WILL AFFECT YOU

1. If you use 15,000 cubic feet or less in a month

If your monthly consumption of gas is 15,000 cubic feet or less, the increase in your monthly bill will range from 2¢ to $1.02, depending on the quantity of gas you use. For example, the table at the right shows the increases in monthly bills for several different monthly consumptions:	Monthly Consumption	Increased Cost Per Month
	1,000 cu. ft.	$.42
	2,000 cu. ft.	.87
	3,000 cu. ft.	.92
	4,000 cu. ft.	.97
	5,000 cu. ft.	1.02
	10,000 cu. ft.	1.02
	15,000 cu. ft.	.02

2. If you use more than 15,000 cubic feet in a month

If your monthly consumption of gas is more than 15,000 cubic feet, your monthly gas bills will be less than at present, the amount of saving increasing in proportion to the quantity of gas used.

In view of the facts presented above, we are confident, first, that our customers will understand why a new schedule of gas rates is necessary, and second, that they will agree that the new rates are fair and equitable, since they are based on the cost of the service rendered, with unit prices decreasing as quantities purchased increase.

The new rates will improve our earnings and enable us to maintain the kind of service which our customers have a right to expect. Under the new rates, return on the company's investment, however, will still be considerably less than what both courts and public utility commissions have indicated is a minimum fair profit.

The number of stars in the whole celestial sphere bright enough to be seen by the average eye on a clear, moonless night is estimated to be between six and seven thousand. However, inasmuch as half this number lies below the horizon, and the haze near the horizon hides many more, the total number visible at any one place does not greatly exceed 2500. Of course, the blended light of many millions of stars in the Milky Way may be seen, but not the individual points of light.

Hart Resigns As Golf Manager

Will Leave Sylvan Heights On May 15, Councilmen Are Informed

LONG DISCUSSION ON SUCCESSOR

Council met formally in the City building today and accepted the resignation, effective May 15, of Walter Hart as manager of Sylvan Heights golf course. Hart ascribed ill health of Mrs. Hart and himself as responsible for his resignation. No successor was named this morning.

Following the acceptance by council, Sylvan Heights golfers presented a petition requesting Tony Conn be appointed to the position. The signers praised Conn's reputation, character, and added that these qualities were exceeded only by his ability and desire to see the course prosper. After the petition had been presented, Councilman J. D. Alexander, who has charge of the parks system, said that following an informal meeting of council, the body had judged C. C. Coulthard, present Cascade Park manager, as the most qualified for the berth, and recommended his appointment to the vacancy.

Before a vote was taken W. T. Saul, a veteran golfer, addressed council. He told of playing at Sylvan Heights and added that he and others, as shown by the petition, favored the appointment of Conn. He expressed the belief that the wishes of the players should be recognized.

He said Conn should receive consideration, unless the council could show he is unsuitable. He said Conn sponsored two winning golf teams, and charged Coulthard would be a part-time man. He boosted Conn's promotional qualities and remarked that the Western Penn public links tourney would be brought here.

He said those in favor of Conn for the position believe they had been sidetracked, and said, "we insist upon consideration."

Frank Summers followed Saul. Summers said he agreed with Saul. He asked of council: "Do you want co-operation?" Meaning this was certain with Conn as manager. He said the golfers want to keep Sylvan Heights going. He explained he did not know what Coulthard could do with the course.

Summers expressed the opinion that the golfers desire Conn. He pointed to the petition recommending the latter.

"Do you believe it a cure for all ailments?" Mayor Charles B. Mayne inquired. Summers replied affirmatively, following which Mayor Mayne said he had a different opinion than some of the golfers, and believes the course should pay for itself.

He continued that "you must consider I have heard a lot from taxpayers who do not play golf." He said he had received "kicks" about not only the golf course, but also Cascade Park. However, he said he was willing for the city to run Cascade Park when a private business couldn't. The mayor predicted: "If this situation don't improve, there may be no course."

Summers replied that, when financial reports are made by the city, they do not contain a report of the assets. In other words, the reports do not show what the city possesses at the golf course.

Alexander next remarked that council had discussed the matter informally and considered it best to place Coulthard in charge of the golf course. "We feel he is capable," Alexander added.

Conn, who is an applicant for the position, was the next speaker. "You should all know me. I believe you should give me a chance," he argued. Conn then recited his basketball achievements and pointed to successes of the Lawrence county tournaments.

Conn explained he had made a determined effort to win the job, and asserted that, "if given the post and I do not 'make good', council can 'fire' me." He then told of promoting and securing valuable trophies for the basketball play.

Mayor Mayne interpolated to declare that "I am not in favor of one going to merchants to further his own way." He said he had been visited on such affairs, and believes anyone who wants to promote anything should do it with his own money.

Conn explained that "we do." He asserted: "I want to go out and work—get a chance. I want to go up the ladder."

"There are always other men, too," the mayor interrupted. At this point Edward J. Davies, North Mill street, asked and received sanction to enter the controversy. He asserted the city golf course has been losing money and there is no more reason for the taxpayers to pay for golf than for tennis or other athletics.

He declared he is in favor of playing the game, but "I want to pay for it." Davies asserted his wife and he pay taxes annually amounting to $1,295.00. He declared the golf course operates only six months a year; charged the heating system cost "$1,400," and in the winter the place "is a clubhouse."

He declared the course had lost "$40,000 during the last 10 years". Councilman Alexander explained to Davies that cost was not under discussion, and Davies ceased talking. Saul again arose and said that, if an additional cost was required, the golfers would pay it "if you (the city) can't get along."

Geno Veri, president of the Sylvan Heights league, said he knows Sylvan Heights golfers. He said he would not have missed today's "experience" for anything, and opined that, if the recommendation offered to council goes through, the golf course will go "hay-wire."

He told of the coming tourney, which would advertise the city and course in 100 cities. He said the committee is not asking for one cent, and stated the membership of this and Ellwood City. He expects an increase. He declared that to many golfers, "Sylvan Heights is our second home."

Councilman D. O. Davies charged that the attitude of the committee to him was: "if we do not name a man 'they' name it, (the golf course) will go 'hay-wire'." I believe we have given this a fair hearing.

"We are accustomed to petitions. I don't like this attitude. It appears the committee don't expect council to take anything but the committee's advice. No one shall dictate to me. It is time council ran the golf course," he declared.

Saul said he did not mean to imply dictation. Davies asserted that Saul had "insisted" to which Saul said he "insisted upon further consideration" (of Conn).

Councilman W. H. Dunlap said that because Hart's resignation will not become effective until May 15, he would offer a motion that the matter be held over for further consideration. Alexander offered the second. The motion passed. The petition was filed, and no golf course manager was named.

Co-eds Get Over 200 Replies From Soldiers

(Special To The News)
 NEW WILMINGTON, May 5.—Over 200 replies have come in during the past week to five Westminster college co-eds, as a result of an ad put in the Honolulu Star-Bulletin, reading "Five Westminster college girls, New Wilmington, Pennsylvania, would like to correspond with men in the army and navy."

Swamped by the heavy mail, which came from young army doctors, marines, fliers, soldiers and sailors, the five co-eds found it easy to pass the letters out to other Westminster women. All of the letters are being answered—no matter how bad the spelling and grammar in a few of them.

The Westminster co-eds chose "letter-writing" as a new way of "aiding in national defense."

GUEST SPEAKERS
ATTEND OCCASION

Initiation services, impressive in every degree, took place Sunday afternoon when a class of new members of the Catholic Daughters of America, Court Teresa Irene No. 231, were inducted at The Castleton at 3 o'clock, followed by a banquet.

Grand regent, Mrs. Marie J. Metz, and the district deputy of Midland, Pa., Mrs. Della K. Crawford, were in charge of the ceremony, assisted by the local officers of Court Teresa Irene. The Rev. Fr. Peter M. Schirra of St. Joseph church and chaplain of the court led in prayers. Appropriate piano selections were provided by Ann Lucille Barnes, pianist of the court. Guests from the Butler court were present on this occasion.

Members of the court and guests assembled later in the dining room of The Castleton, where a delicious banquet dinner was served. Long tables were nicely arranged for the dinner, the court's color, purple, gold and white, predominating in the appropriate theme. Promptly at 5 o'clock the serving began, and the invocation was pronounced by the Rev. Fr. Vincent O'Donnell, chaplain of the New Castle hospital. Officers of the court were all attired in white formal gowns and wore shoulder corsages, and here, too, the court's colors were used. Lovely hostess' books were given to each member, a favor from the court.

Mrs. Evelyn Woods, toastmistress of the event, took charge in her inimitable manner and introduced the grand regent, Mrs. Marie J. Metz, who extended a word of welcome to the guests, members and the new class. For the past two years Mrs. Metz has been the grand regent of the C. D. of A., and her progress and work in the court's interest is highly commendable.

Rev. Fr. V. V. Stancelewski, pastor of the SS. Philip and James' church, was next introduced as the principal speaker. Father Stancelewski gave an inspiring talk, his theme being around, "Catholic Action."

Mrs. Della K. Crawford, district deputy of Midland, Pa., the next speaker, made fitting remarks and extended greetings from the state regent, Frances Maher of Kane, Pa. Rev. Fr. Vincent O'Donnell, the next speaker, gave an inspiring talk on "Catholic Womanhood," and Rev. Fr. Peter M. Schirra commented upon the good work being done by the C. D. of A. Study club, under the direction of Clara Duff. Other speakers were: Mary McShane, past district deputy of Butler; Mrs. Gertude Smith and Mrs. Louretta Kearney, past grand regents, of Butler; Lena Enright, past grand financial secretary, of Butler, and Mrs. Roy Slater of Butler.

Speakers of the local court were: Mrs. Frances Colao, Mrs. Ida Suber, past grand regents; Mrs. Mary Maher, vice regent; Mrs. Catherine Gallagher, secretary; Mrs. Hazel Sewald, prophetess; Mrs. Anne Mulcahy, lecturer; Ann Lucille Barnes, organist; Frances Corio, historian; Helen Grant, Mrs. Marie Jones, Mrs. Lucy Lemer, guides, and Mary Chill and Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Dolan, trustees, and Mrs. Mary Brown, monitor. Remarks were also heard from various members of the local court.

The candlelight service, expressing good fellowship, was conducted later, with Mrs. Marie J. Metz and Mrs. Evelyn Woods in charge, while the assembly sang, Auld Lang Syne. Benediction was pronounced by Father Schirra.

On Sunday morning a large class of Catholic Daughters of America members attended holy communion in a body at the 9:45 o'clock mass in St. Mary's church.

Members of the new class inducted are: Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Betka, Mrs. Smolinski, Mrs. Jennie Galena, Mrs. Betty Pezone, Mrs. Mary Doyle, Mrs. Mary Vincent, Mrs. Loretta Shriver, Mary Gallo, Mrs. Mary Diana, Mary Rita Scilla, Mrs. Caroline Cassandra, Florence Gallant, Helen Villani and Mrs. Anna McCann.

May 12, at 8:30 o'clock, is the date for the next meeting, and at the meeting of May 26, members of the Butler court will be guests. Meetings are held in the K. of C. home, North Jefferson street.

Whirlaway Wins Kentucky Derby

Winner Saturday Sets New Track and Derby Record, Wins By Eight Lengths

STARETOR FINISHES IN SECOND PLACE

By EDWARD W. COCHRANE
(International News Service Staff Writer)
FRENCH LICK SPRINGS, Ind., May 5.—The sun shines bright on my old Kentucky home. It's May time, the hard boot are gay. Yes, sir, the hard boots of the blue grass are gay to say, 'cause they went hook, line and sinker on that mahogany chestnut beauty from Calumet farm named Whirlaway, in Col. Matt Winn's 67th Kentucky derby—and he didn't let them down. "Weep no more my lady..." And there's no weeping around them diggings in the Blue Grass country. The only weeping being done today is by folks from California and Texas and New York, who made up the pots of gold that went down on some horses named Porter's Cap, Our Boots, Little Beans and a few more.

Fairly Flies
They couldn't see Whirlaway, the folks from outside the Blue Grass. He'd run out and get lost in the scramble, they thought, but they sure are convinced now that he's the best 152 hands of horse flesh that ever went postward in the classic of the American turf. Ran the mile and a quarter in 2:01 2-5, a new record by two-fifths of a second, and finished eight lengths in front.

Someone asked a "hard boot" how fast Whirlaway ran that last quarter. "What do you mean, a-n-a that last quarter?" he came back astonished. "Man, he didn't run that last quarter, he just naturally flew."

So he did. There are doubts that anyone ever saw a horse fly faster down the stretch. And those hard boots rushed the mutual windows for him! There was a host that was bred in Kentucky, at Calumet farm; raised on the blue grass of the 1,600 expansive acres of Warren Wright's palatial breeding farm, and trained down the hard boots have been watching him work.

Porter's Cap and Our Boots didn't remain favorites long after the betting started. Before the mutual clerks knew what had happened, the Kentuckians had backed Whirlaway right down to a hot favorite, and it seems some others caught on and followed in their footsteps.

It isn't often that a Derby horse passes the field in the stretch as Whirlaway did. Twenty Grand, who set the old mark of 2:01 4-5 in 1931; War Admiral and all the good ones that have won the Derby, didn't leave their fields like that. Maybe Whirlaway is the best of them all. His time would indicate as much.

Grove City won a track and field meet from Geneva, 91 to 40.

Durocher's opinion: "You can not name a pitcher on the Yanks' staff who will win 15 games. Red Ruffing and Russo may and may not. You must have a couple of pitchers who can win 20 games or close to that to land in the gravy."

Water Snake War Here On Saturday

Lawrence county's sportsmen have declared war on the water snake. The blitzkrieg comes Saturday, May 10, with sportsmen and Boy Scouts going over the top in pursuit of the fishermen's enemy.

The scouts will meet at a place to be announced soon. Sportsmen will transport the scouts to local snake haunts.

Sportsmen willing to furnish cars are asked to call the Boy Scout office, 5477.

"Chubby" Dean Is Suspended

PHILADELPHIA—"Chubby" Dean who occasionally flashes bits of greatness on the mound, has been suspended by Connie Mack, pilot of the Philadelphia Athletics.

The somewhat eccentric Dean failed to show up for the final game in Cleveland recently and immediately got the "heave-o". The length of the suspension has not been disclosed.

SCOUTS' QUARTERS

ATHENS, Ga.—When Georgia and Florida played the second game of their annual series here recently, five big league baseball scouts were on hand to watch the youngsters perform. They included representatives of the New York Yankees, Cincinnati Reds, New York Giants, Pittsburgh Pirates and Boston Red Sox.

Pirates Defeat Dodgers 6 To 4

Cardinals Defeat Boston To Increase Lead In National League, Indians Win

ATHLETICS WALLOP WHITE SOX TEAM

By LAWTON CARVER

NEW YORK, May 5.—The hottest team in the National League at the moment is the St. Louis Cardinals and they may be the eventual pennant winners unless the Cincinnati Reds or the Brooklyn Dodgers can manage to do something about it henceforward. And don't get the notion that the Cards' successes—reaching nine straight yesterday—are so many overnight flashes in the pan. Manager Billy Southworth has figured all along that he has a strong contender.

In winning their ninth game in a row the Cards turned back the Boston Bees or Braves, 3 to 1. The answer, of course, being good pitching, which is what Southworth has been banking on since spring training.

Pirates Top Dodgers

This latest conquest leaves the Cards just that much closer in front of the Brooklyn Dodgers, who lost to the Pittsburgh Pirates, 6 to 4.

Meantime the skidding New York Giants were taking the measure of the Chicago Cubs, 9 to 4, to break a six-game losing streak that left the local club in third place ahead of the Cincinnati Reds, who were shutout by the Philadelphia Phillies, of all people, 3 to 0. Rookie Tom Hughes pitched the victory. He is up from Baltimore.

In the American League, the Cleveland Indians remained as the pace-setters with their 10th in a row, 12 to 4, over Washington. It was another victory for Al Smith, although he failed to go the limit.

Yankees Walloped

The victory left the Indians well in front of the second place New York Yankees, who were pounded down and almost out by the Detroit Tigers, 10 to 1. The Yanks made only five hits off Bo Bo Newsom and missed a shutout by the margin of Charley Keller's home run in the second.

One of the biggest surprises of the day in the American took place in the Philadelphia-Chicago game, won the former, 17 to 11. Incredible as it may sound, the A's did make 17 runs and 14 hits.

The Boston Red Sox turned loose their power to the extent of 15 hits to down the St. Louis Browns, 11 to 4. Lefty Meese Grove hurled the victory.

Huge Tonnage Of Coal Being Handled Here

Traffic Through City To Lake Ports In Exceptionally Heavy

Coal is rolling through New Castle on its way from the mines to the lake ports, coal mined by the thousands of tons daily, coal that will be loaded onto boats at the ports and taken across Lake Erie.

With the cessation of the strike in the bituminous coal fields, the miners are bending every nerve towards getting the coal out and the railroads are rushed 24 hours per day to get it through.

On the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, 10 Mallet locomotives, the big fellows that haul 100 loaded cars to a train, are in service and the daily tonnage of coal coming through on the B. & O. is about 30,000 tons.

The average load of a car is about 60 tons, which means 6000 tons to a train. At least five coal trains a day are cleared through the B. & O. junction yards.

Market Higher At Opening Today, But Turns Irregular Toward Noon

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 5.—The stock market turned irregular today after a firm opening on continued strength and activity in rail and oil shares. Gains ran to as much as a point at the early peaks.

Issues among the rails and oils to reach new high ground early in the session included Standard of California, Pure Oil, Southern Pacific and Santa Fe. The last-named was up a point at one time.

At the same time several representative stocks slipped to new 1941 bottoms. Prominent were General Motors, which lost almost a point. Chrysler dropped more than a point to equal its low. General Electric and Swift were others to reach new bottoms.

Steels were typical of most sections, developing a mixed trend through the second hour after a firm start. U. S. Steel and Crucible slipped behind minus signs, but Bethlehem held a modest gain.

Coppers and rail equipments, along with most aviation issues, eased moderately. Utilities, rubbers and chemicals were mixed.

FOR MALE STUDENTS ONLY

(International News Service)

HANOVER, N. H.—Because of its masculinity Dartmouth college came into a $500,000 endowment fund. The late Emil Bommer, Brookline, N. Y., manufacturer, in his will stated that the $500,000 trust fund be used for the education of male students only, and that it cannot be used for the "so-called dead languages" or for the maintenance of competitive athletics. Bommer, who did in 1925 had no connection with Dartmouth but became impressed with the college when seeking a completely masculine institution to which to leave his residuary estate.
